

Fact Sheet – Qualifications
Temporary Seasonal Fire Positions
Wildland Firefighter - GS-0456

Selective Factor Information - The Interagency Fire Program Management (IFPM) Qualification Standards for wildland fire positions became effective October 1, 2010. The table below shows what will be required for the majority of the wildland fire positions under the “Selective Factor” column. NOTE: These requirements are in addition to the basic/minimum qualification requirements that are stated in the vacancy announcement. You can find more information regarding IFPM at <https://www.nifc.gov/programs/interagency-fire-program-management/ifpm-standard>

Basic Qualification Standards - The following table shows the amounts of education and/or experience required to qualify for temporary wildland firefighter positions. To qualify at each grade level, applicants must meet the general and/or specialized experience, OR the educational requirements, OR have a combination of each beginning with the GS-3. General experience is any type of work that demonstrates the applicant's ability to perform the work of the position; this does not have to be fire experience.

Best Qualified Category Information (for Delegated Examining positions) - Upon receipt of your complete application package, a review of your application will be made to ensure you meet the basic qualification requirements. Your rating will be based on your responses to the Job Specific Questionnaire and the information stated in your resume. If you meet the qualification requirements, your application will be placed in one of three categories: Best Qualified, Well Qualified, or Qualified. Within these categories, applicants eligible for veteran's preference will receive selection priority over non-veterans. The job specific questions relate to the following job elements required to do the work of this position.
